

JESUS CRUST!

NOSTRADAMUS PREDICTED
FREE PIZZA IN HEAVEN!

In a time when pizza had yet to be invented, when all-you-can eat buffets were a thing of the future, Nostradamus, with quill and papyrus, scribbled down numerous predictions. Such predictions have included the French and Indian War, Flight 800's crash, and Archie's love-triangle with Betty and Veronica.

Recently, scientists have recovered three lost pages penned by the ancient guesser! These pages unfold a hint of post-mortem abundance: free pizza in the after-life—for the good people who make it to heaven. By miracle of premonition, the bearded thinker not only guessed at the plentifulness of food for non-sinners, but the then-nonexistent food he pinpointed would come to be the most delicious baked food to ever grace our planet.

"I can imagine what hell would be like," said Stephen Franco, professor of Theology. "Just try to imagine a world without pizza. I get scared just thinking about it. I hope those people who go to hell like thin and crispy, and I'm not talking about pizza here."

The heterogenous food, which contains ingredients ranging from pepperoni and hamburger to extra cheese and pineapple, is exactly the type of manna humans expect to eat all the time after they die—which proves just how right Nostradamus was!

- Todd Mein

a serious message from
ERIC★JENKINS
2003 UT SG Presidential Candidate for the DANCE PARTY!

Eric Jenkins is an upstanding member of the UT community and he wants to share his progressive ideology with YOU, the people!

FOR:

- Blowing up the moon to get rid of those goddamn werewolves once and for all!
- Construction of an altar in the south mall for sacrifices to Marmaduke!
- Pie pants cheez whiz falafel layin down rhymes like Ted Coppel!
- Getting a "what what!"

AGAINST:

- Affirmative action for the undead!
- Glaucoma, melanoma, Oklahoma and Tony Roma!
- Carelessly discarded toxic waste near the ancient burial site!
- The environment!

